(b) Each applicant or licensee, registrant, or certificate holder is responsible for being familiar with and following the Code of Ethics of that individual's profession.

(c) Unethical conduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- (1) Knowingly circulating untrue, fraudulent, misleading or deceptive advertising.
- (2) Engaging in sexual activities with clients.
- (3) Addiction to the habitual use of intoxicating liquors, narcotics, or other stimulants to such an extent as to incapacitate him from the performance of his professional obligations and duties.
- (4) Failure of a licensee to inform clients fully about the limits of confidentiality in a given situation, the purposes— for which information is obtained, and how it may be used.
- (5) Denial of a client's reasonable request for access to any records concerning the client. When providing clients with access to records, the licensee shall take due care to protect the confidences of others contained in those records.
- (6) Failure to obtain informed consent of clients before taping, recording, or permitting third party observation of their activities.
- (7) Failure to clarify the nature and directions of a licensee's loyalties and responsibilities and keep all parties informed of their commitments when a conflict of interest exists between a client and the licensee's employing institution.
- (8) Failure to fully inform consumers as to the purpose and nature of an evaluation, research, treatment, educational or training procedure, and freely acknowledging that clients', students, or participants in research have freedom of choice with regard to participation.

(9) Failure to attempt to terminate a clinical or consulting relationship when it is reasonably clear that the relationship is not benefiting the consumer, patient, or client. Licensees who find that their services are being used by employers in a way that is not beneficial to the participants or to employees who may be affected, or to significant others, have the responsibility to make their observations known to the responsible persons and to propose modification or termination of the engagement.

(10) Failure to make every effort to avoid dual relationships with clients and/or relationships which might impair independent professional judgment or increase the risk of client exploitation.

(11) Failure to assist clients in finding needed services by making appropriate referrals in those instances where payment of the usual fee would be a hardship.

(12) Failure to terminate service to clients and professional relationships with them, when such service and relationships are no longer required. The licensee who anticipates the termination or interruption of service to clients shall notify clients promptly and seek the transfer, referral, or continuation of service in relation to the clients' needs and preferences.

(13) Setting fees that are unreasonable and not commensurate with the service performed.

(14) Engaging in the division of fees or agreeing to split or divide the fee received for professional services with any person for bringing or referring a patient.
